

Dear friends,

With your help, this letter of peace will be sent throughout Europe in several languages with white roses and white peace flags.

We are very concerned about how war propaganda is being pushed.

Serbian President Aleksandar Vucic said these days that Western propaganda is aiming to start the big war in three or four months at the latest. He is preparing its country for this catastrophe with food, medicine and moral support.

Do we really want to be led into a third world war with many dead, destroyed cities and lifeless landscapes?

Do we want to remain silent today so as not to offend anyone?

Do we want to pay the price for this silence by jeopardising the lives of current and future generations?

Do we want to allow Europe to first allow itself to be divided and then willingly commit suicide?

Who is prepared to do everything in their power to stop this madness?

Do we have any means of putting a stop to this madness?

We speak out as human beings. We work for peace. Our work is not politically motivated, but humanly motivated.

The politicians' peace mongering screams to high heaven. One example: a so-called "peace conference" has just been held in supposedly neutral Switzerland on the Bürgenstock, where homage was paid to the President of Ukraine, but the Russians were not even invited. A peace conference without both parties involved?

It was de facto a war conspiracy meeting against Russia. This does not make us theorists of the conspiracies, but at best observers of them.

The conspiracy practitioners met at the Bürgenstock.

We would like to point out that Western governments, especially those belonging to NATO, are heading towards a third world war by any means necessary. They are blatantly threatening the Russians more and more openly with war, after years of pumping endless amounts of weapons and money into the Ukraine so that The latter is fighting on behalf of the West against the Russians. More than half a million people have already lost their lives in the process. In the USA, this is called the "best investment to keep Russia down", as they are not losing any of their own soldiers in the process.

It is frightening to see how one-sided and mendacious the media have become, even if they pretend to shed light on the issues from different angles. A large part of the population credulously accepts their preconceived "opinions" as truth, even though we should know that war propaganda involves lies from all sides. It is frightening when both young and older people openly speak out in favour of expanding the Bundeswehr and advocate a war against Russia.

This time, thank God, we are "on the right side".

You can hear these kinds of conversations everywhere in Germany at the moment, whether on the train or in a café. Do these people realise what a major war means? Do they realise that it will wreak havoc on all life for generations, that their family members will become victims of war, could be killed, especially as it is now feared that nuclear and biological weapons could also be used?

Let's not forget: war is war.

If you are in favour, you are in favour of killing.

It is absurd that politicians are trying to make us believe that we can only "create peace with weapons".

We are writing this as those affected, who know many people on both sides and in many countries.

We are neither right-wing nor left-wing, especially as these terms are used massively for propaganda purposes by the bourgeois parties and their media. At this point, we distance ourselves from ALL parties, explicitly including the "Greens", who originally campaigned in favour of peace, against the economic growth and against the conventional, one-sided media. That is what they stood for when they were founded. Today they have mutated into the worst war propaganda party with the help of the media they used to criticise. As a result, they have divided the entire environmental and peace movement. Some have realised their infiltration and takeover, others still believe in their name. This creates division.

Why aren't more people, especially academics, currently endeavouring to get a more comprehensive picture of the context?

For the alternative peace conference, which took place parallel to the meeting of the powerful at Bürgenstock, also in Switzerland, on 14 June, former CIA officer Ray McGovern provided background information on how the war in Ukraine really came about.

This is just one of many thousands of educational videos that can only be found in critical media.

Why is this information withheld from the general public?

Here are even more distant references that have contributed to the current situation: For about 300 years, long-term plans of the secret lodges have been used to organise the various Slavic peoples were deliberately played off against each other and wars were started between the German-speaking peoples and the Slavs in particular.

One example is that Lenin was intellectually and financially prepared for the revolution in Russia by the West at the beginning of the twentieth century and then smuggled into Russia from Switzerland via Germany in a sealed railway carriage. The "enemy communism" was deliberately staged by the West in order to create a deterrent counter-image and thus distract from criticism of exploitative capitalism. At the same time, this caused divisions among workers and also between Eastern and Western Europe. The iron curtain was primarily drawn in people's minds. The hopes after the fall of communism for stable peace, when the Warsaw Pact, among others, was dissolved, have been completely cancelled out. NATO has expanded more and more towards Russia, contrary to all agreements. Why?

Why doesn't Central Europe, and the German-speaking countries in particular, ensure peace now at the latest?

The threat of war affects Europe. Is Europe not in a position to act responsibly?

The actual task of the German-speaking countries, to have a balancing effect between Eastern and Western mentalities in order to secure long-term peace, is and has been deliberately prevented by the forces that control the media and politics.

Now the peace between the Europeans and the independence of the European Countries can be prevented through provoked division. Slavs kill Slavs. Europeans kill Europeans on European soil.

We are heading for self-destruction by dutifully serving the power interests of the West, especially the USA, whose power play threaten to destroy ourselves, our neighbours and sustainable social development. The populations of all countries do not actually want war. But by means of propaganda against each other for a long time before a war, until they believe that war is justified. That was the case every time.

If you just wait long enough until most of the witnesses have passed away, the psychology of this simple trick works again, just because other buzzwords are used, other population groups are hunted down or left and right are swapped. Wars have never been started by the population.

But it is she who is ultimately sent to war through a lot of manipulation. She is the one who loses her brother, sister, father, sons, mothers, land, house and farm.

Peace is not just an absence of war, peace is a permanent activity through which people from different backgrounds and nations can work creatively for – and with each other in their diversity for the future of all humanity – Cultural cultivation, cultural understanding and cultural development mean peace development.

The cultural decline everywhere is already an inflationary degeneration of humanity.

Why should all peoples be driven further and further into a materialistic uniform culture or unculture?

Why is anyone who doesn't join in and loves, develops and cultivates their original culture labelled as right-wing and shunned?

If cultural development means the development of peace it is clear that those who campaign for peace are now being vilified as right-wing.

Are the so-called "right-wingers" today the bringers of peace that people want to eliminate with the term?

Nobody wants to be on the right in German-speaking countries. This is an attempt to silence everyone. But fortunately, most of the bringers of peace are above this political defamation strategy and speak out against the war.

Let us become more and more practical bringers of peace through the power of the individual!

Those who still want to pull out the "right-wing club" are only showing their short-sighted view of the world.

What can we do in concrete terms to avert this impending scenario?

1. Pray
2. Demonstrations for peace, so that foreign countries can see that we don't want war.
3. White flags for peace hanging out of windows and cars everywhere.
4. Wear a white rose on your clothes and show your "colour".
5. Peace is not only an exclusion of war, but peace is a permanent activity of a constant struggle for the development of the whole of humanity by each individual human being.

6. Inform yourself about all sides and the historical background.
7. Exploring the question: Who is our real enemy? Is it "the" Russians, "the" Americans, is it "the" elites, is it powers in the background? Or is it even us with our one-sided materialistic thinking? Is it a mixture of all of them? Is the real enemy a negative spiritual force that wants to destroy humanity?
8. Bring these issues and backgrounds to the public wherever you can, on Workplace, club, church, family, to make people aware of this deadly danger of war.
9. Wherever possible, politicians, especially from the green, social and middle-class parties, visit them, write to them, talk to them and make them aware of the real dangers.
10. Total direct and indirect refusal of war.
11. Silence is not a refusal of war, on the contrary: those who remain silent give free rein to the cause and agree with the warmongers.
12. Everything is upside down and divided today. We have to put things back on their feet and find each other again as human beings.
13. Money has to serve people. Only an investment in developing people, especially children, is able to guarantee a peaceful future. That is why the areas of education and culture need donations from us humans and no longer from the manipulating state. This investment in the future is more important than our current full belly and holidays.
14. Agriculture, the basis of life for all of us, has become a nature-destroying
The conditions are forcing most farmers to give up their farms. It is important to support healthy farmers in solidarity. Where constructive peace is made with the earth, peace can also be made between the farmers.
people spread more easily.
15. The social order between the areas of economy, culture and law must be salutarily sorted into economy: fraternal, culture: free and law: equal, as chaos and a dictatorship of capital prevail today.
16. Examine your own profession to see whether my work directly or indirectly helps the capitalist profit system, which always ends in war, or does it support the development of free people?
17. Is my professionalism in times of crisis technical, artistic, medical, pedagogical, practical use? What can I really do?
18. If necessary, draw professional conclusions regarding my work and work for it in the future, that people and nature can develop and thus serve peace.

19. Even if the individual cannot directly achieve in his life that the misfortune of war is slowed down, every person who actively rejects war both inwardly and outwardly is shaping an important path for future generations, right into the spiritual world. Spiritually, it now depends on each individual person. Just think of the Scholl siblings, who gave rise to the White Rose during the Third Reich.

20. Pray

Do we want to wait until the first deaths of acquaintances and relatives are mourned in this country before we put an end to barbarism?

It could only come as far as it has now because all of us humans, regardless of which side we are on, think primarily from a materialistic, cold intellect and do not want to perceive the spiritual, intellectual background that requires a new awareness and action.

Are we afraid of the spiritual?

We should be aware that the opposing powers are well aware of the spiritual world, but use these powers negatively. Spiritually positive people are concerned with ensuring that all people can develop freely towards their highest divine potential, regardless of which nationality they belong to. Only in this way can we make a contribution to the overall development of the human family.

In contrast, the negative thoughts and intentions once set in motion seem to have taken on a life of their own. They have found their way into all areas of life, especially where power structures, politics and capital are concerned. There are physical laws in the physical world. However, if these are imposed on living nature and people, they have a deadly effect because they ignore the spiritual laws. These deadly forces must be countered by a renewing, living, clear-thinking consciousness.

We therefore repeatedly emphasise that our ability to act to prevent war lies in particular in a spiritually substantial, living consciousness.

The cold war could only be built on the cold intellect with the resulting egoism. The impending "hot war" can only be won by a warm, loving and clear consciousness that takes into account the historical facts and the resulting actions.

What is the basis of this positive awareness?

Couldn't we light this inside us and spread it before it gets so bad?

Isn't there a "light" that we all know, because it is within us?

Could this light be absorbed by each of us in such a way that we practically bring it to bear in the world?

This will not automatically take on a life of its own, like the negative forces. The positive gives us freedom. It is up to each individual person to decide whether to put in the effort to have a beneficial effect on human development or to allow ruin to happen in a sleepy, uninitiative, even leisurely manner.

We hope that these fears will not materialise with your active help.

If they do occur and the war is expanded, then the yes-sayers and sluggards cannot say that they did not know or blame the Russians or Americans. They have allowed it to happen. And are complicit, today more than in the past, because everyone has the opportunity to inform themselves in depth about all sides and to look at the true historical events.

Let us not allow ourselves to be tyrannised by negative forces of doom and be led into a war the likes of which the world has never seen before. Instead, let us actively build peace.

As a sign of this, let us carry a white rose and hang white peace flags from the windows and cars. More and more active bringers of peace will come forward.

With your help, this letter will also be sent to the English, Italian, French, Serbian, Russian and Spanish-speaking world and may also be translated into other languages until the peace-bringing "White Rose" spreads throughout Europe.

P.S.: We are trying to make a small contribution to peace by co-organising a conference in Serbia with various nations from 14-21 July. The aim is to take a closer look at the future common tasks for the development of the human family, building on Slavic history.

If you think you can make a meaningful contribution, please get in touch with us.
